SPORT international

A farewell note

During its XXIIIrd General Assembly, the International Military Sports Council has decided to abandon its current publication program in favor of one better suited to the organization's requirements.

As of 1969, SPORT INTERNATIONAL will be published but once a year, at Christmas time. This annual issue — a detailed and richly illustrated year-book, at it were — will retrace CISM's activities during the year gone by and describe the program and calendar of the year to come.

« CISM NEWS », on the other hand, will henceforth be published monthly, both in English and in French. The bulletin will feature current events, the latest echos of CISM Life, scores and highlights of sports events, and a regular series of practical data.

Also graduating to the forefront will be the « TECHNICAL BROCHURES » which, through the combined effort of our Academy's most qualified specialists, will place the latest discoveries in the field of training and the many aspects of sports within the reach of all. They will constitute a valuable documentation for all who partake in the promotion of sports, be it in the capacity of technician, doctor, trainer, or coach, in other words all those engaged in the study of Man.

The Technical Brochures will be published quarterly.

Thus, after ten years of uninterrupted publication, our news magazine « SPORT INTERNATIONAL » will no longer go to press quarterly as in the past. We feel, however, that it has accomplished its mission, namely to serve the expansion of our organization — CISM's membership did double in the past ten years.

At this stage, our ever-growing organization needs above all to step up its program of activities and to revise its information service so as to provide for a faster tempo of publication and greater emphasis on technical data. Moreover, numerous military publications in our member nations now give our championships extensive and thorough reporting as well as photographic coverage.

SPORT INTERNATIONAL says good by for now, with the promise to return next Christmas.

In the meantime, all readers wishing to do so may apply for membership in CISM CLUB, which will make its issues of CISM NEWS and of the TECHNICAL BROCHURES available to them.

We hope that this new approach will meet with your approval and that our wide circle of Friends and Supporters will keep on growing.

Raoul MOLLET
Permanent Secretary General

XVIIIth CROSS-COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIP

FEBRUARY 24th — RABAT (MOROCCO)

Flawless organization assumed by the Moroccan Delegation on very short notice as a result of an unavoidable last minute cancellation by Ireland. The Moroccan Delegation deserves our highest praise as well as our genuine appreciation.

The opening ceremony was honored with the presence of H. E. M. HADDON CHIGUER, Minister of Defense, while General BECHIR presided over the closing ceremony.

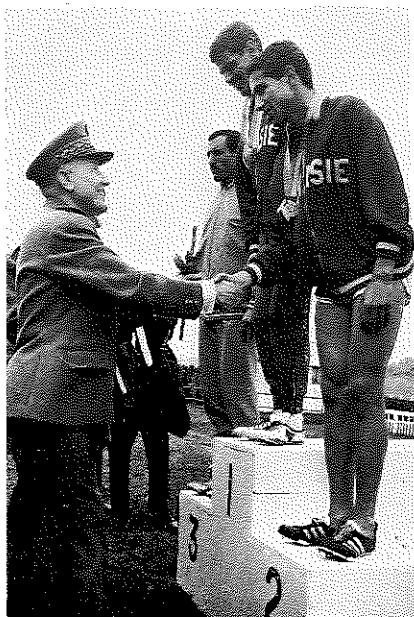

General K. G. WICKHAM, official CISM representative, spoke highly of the warm hospitality extended by Morocco and the truly friendly attitude displayed by all participants.

The organizational difficulties entailed by an extremely short deadline were surmounted with remarkable efficiency.

The Short-Cross event should be strongly supported with a view to increasing participation and heightening interest.

In this context, because of the very stringent time limits imposed on the Moroccan Delegation and ensuing difficulties, the SHORT-CROSS was not featured in the program this year.

The trophy offered by H. E. President H. BOURGUIBA and which was awarded to Belgium in 1967 has been temporarily placed in the Honor Room of CISM HOUSE in Brussels.

King Olav went uphill on his skis to the slalom competition at Skeikampen, west of Lillehammer. He is accompanied by colonel J. Langaas, Chief of the Army Signals School and Training Centre at Jørstadmoen, Lillehammer, the military unit which arranged the XIII CISM ski week this year.

The winning team of the military patrol competition Finland I.

The program of the XIIIth CISM SKI WEEK was indeed a full one since five events took place consecutively. Were it not for the absence of a Jumping contest, it would have been an all-inclusive championship. Ski week was, this year, sponsored by NORWAY and quite naturally became a national event. H. M. KING OLAF, the Crown Prince, the Minister of Defense, and all the Norwegian general officers — all, of course, on skis — attended several contests. Performances were of a high international level. The Northerners confirmed their superiority in distance events, but Switzerland's results are not to be discounted. The new Triathlon contest was very well received. The 4 x 10 km team event was spectacular. With the addition of Shooting, it will deserve a choice place on CISM's Calendar. « Outstandingly organized by the Norwegian Armed Forces, the XIIIth Ski week was an overall success », such was the comment of Colonel G. LE BORGNE (France), official CISM representative to the event.

Winner of the giant slalom, Jakob Tischhauser, Switzerland (to the right) and the second best, Patrick Russel from France.

4,000 spectators for each game!

CISM's representative, Colonel H. MENDENHALL (United States) was unable to conceal his astonishment when, in Gorizia, he found an impressive indoor court and an atmosphere on a par with those of great American Games.

Every evening, highly competitive encounters drew 4 000 enthusiastic and knowledgeable onlookers.

Then, in the daytime, technicians and sports doctors dwelled on the problems of « THE BASKETBALL PLAYER'S TRAINING », which was the topic of research days organized under the very apt supervision of General G. TATARELLI (M. C.).

Once more, Italy did a great job.

The performance was excellent and the outcome of the games remained a toss to the very last minute, as evidenced by the scores: 59-57 for ITALY-GREECE and 70-68 for the Final match opposing the unvanquished teams of the UNITED-STATES and ITALY.

Another surprise yet for Colonel MENDENHALL... and for CISM, another successful championship.

— BAGHDAD — SOCCER FINALS UNPRE-CEDENTED SUCCESS — STOP — OVER

 ING ORGANIZATION — END —

Such was the wording used by the Permanent Secretary General, CISM's official representative to the XXIIIrd Soccer Finals, in advising the President of the overwhelming success of this important event.

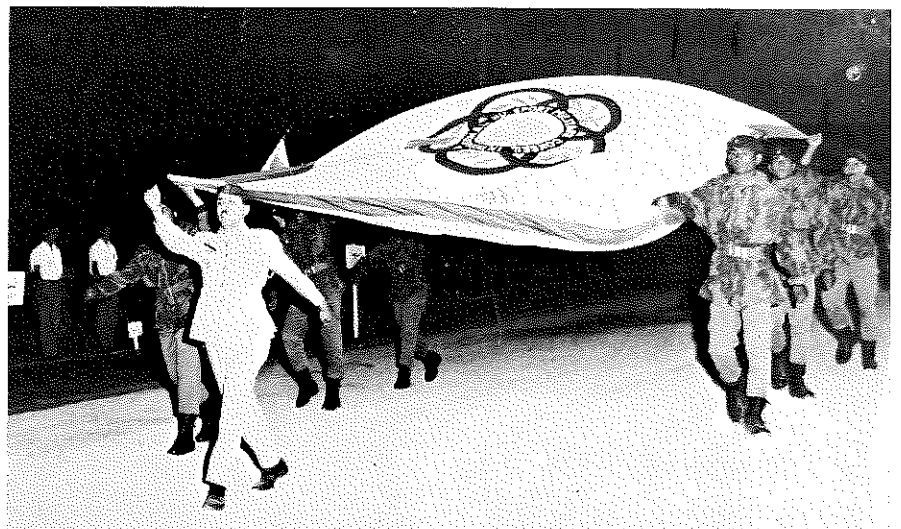

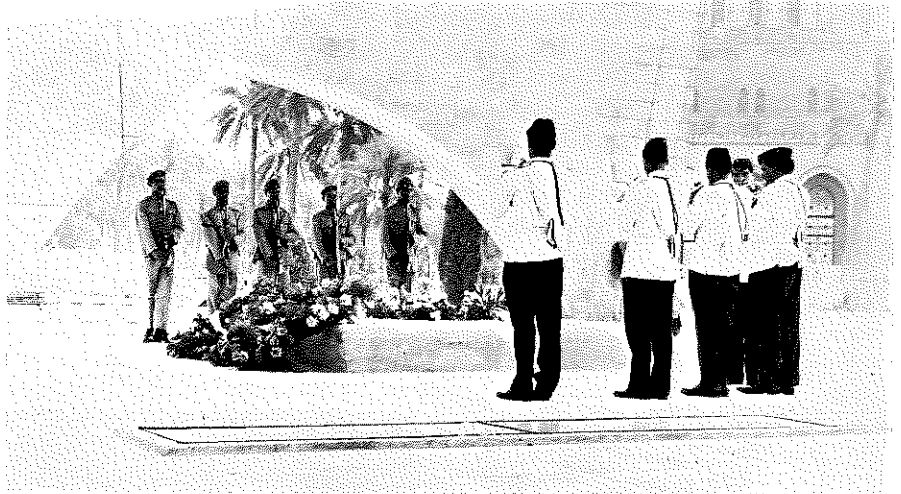

Authors of this feat: Colonel I. AL-SHAIKH, Lt Colonel S.A. AHMAD, and Captain H. AL-NOOH.

Stars of the show: the Greek team — fast, lively, and enthusiastic; the Turkish team — solid, rough, and hardy; the Ivory Coast team — the true revelation of the tournament; and the Netherlands' team — which deserved a better classification.

The Spanish performance proved somewhat disappointing, and Korea rather unlucky in losing two games which it was leading at half-time.

Attendance by the highest national authorities, the presence of innumerable and expert fans, and the perfect hospitality served to enhance the unquestionable success of this event.

Ceremony at the National Monument.

H. R. H. Prince Henrik of Denmark in the company of Lt General H. J. Pagh, Commander in Chief of the Danish Air Force.

P.A.I.M. made a come back under the sponsorship of H.R.H. Prince Henrik of Denmark

Air Force teams of the following nations participated in the XVth International Military Aeronautic Pentathlon Championship: Denmark, Spain, Finland, France, Norway, Netherlands and Sweden.

Introduced in 1948 with a view to encouraging physical fitness training for the pilots, P. A. I. M. slowly lost ground through force of circumstance; the evolution of machinery, and the transition from the conventional prop to the modern jet aircraft have altered the training requirements.

However, thanks to a few determined colonels, P. A. I. M. resumed its activities with the added incentive that its program might be modernized and perhaps reoriented.

Couldn't we, for instance, institute an Air Week reserved for Air Force personnel, as a counterpart to our Ski and Sea Weeks?

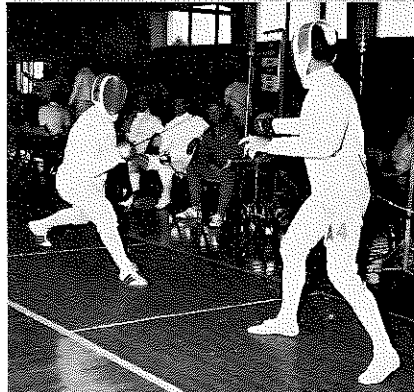

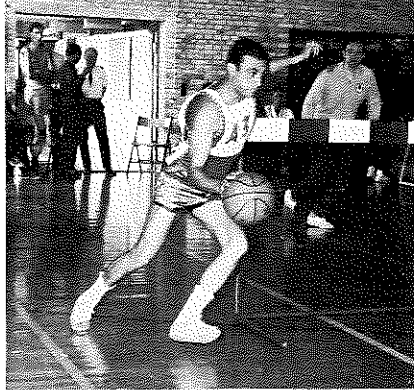

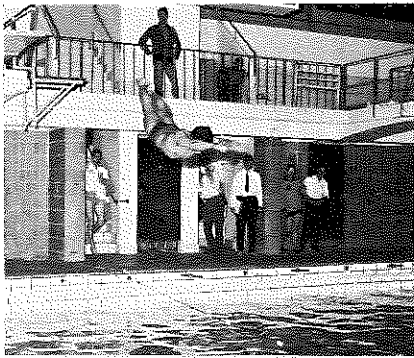

Be it as it may, P. A. I. M.'s return on our Calendar appeared ever so promising thanks to the Danish Delegation.

H. R. H. Prince Henrik of Denmark presided over the ceremonies, while the various and tasking contests took place smoothly and in an atmosphere of true fairplay, under the apt supervision of CISM's representative, Colonel K. Rasmussen (Sweden).

The presence of observers from Brazil and Thailand is a likely forerunner of further participation increase.

The results of the Air Rally and the incredible precision displayed by the pilots were a concrete testimony of their truly exceptional skill.

In summary, the success of this event was a much deserved reward to Lt Colonel E. Birkhede. He could retire with his conscience fully at ease; P. A. I. M. was on its way again, at a good pace.

The Brazilian Delegation has rendered CISM one more favor by implementing a dual event. As a result of the temporary assignment to several Latin American nations of officers specializing in Pentathlon training, coupled with a sustained information program, this key-event on our calendar enjoyed the participation of new teams hailing from Uruguay, Colombia, and Peru, in a championship scheduled for their benefit. Their representatives subsequently had the opportunity to witness the performance of great Brazilian and European Pentathlon contestants in action.

The large representation of European teams — made possible through France's kind offer of joint transportation — evidenced further progress.

The very courageous, very hardy Argentine team even treated itself to the luxury of entering the second contest on its very first stab at the event.

The XXth Military Pentathlon Championship was a complete success!

HATS OFF TO YOU, BRAZIL, AND THANK YOU!

At the CISM championships, Gammoudi, Wolde, Pender, and Papanicolaou brush a clearer picture of their ambitions for Mexico

From 3 to 9 July, 13 nations gathered in the close vicinity of the Parthenon for what turned out to be the consecration of the success of our Track & Field championships. The 13 participants were : Germany, Belgium, Ivory Coast, United States, Ethiopia, France, Greece, Iraq, Lebanon, Morocco, Tunisia and Turkey.

One observer : Kuwait.

This was Ethiopia's first time participation in one of our championships. The opening ceremony was presided by the Vice Prime Minister in the presence of 25,000 spectators, while 35,000 onlookers attended the last day of the event.

Do take a fast look at the list of winners in this championship — you will find that many a name has since appeared on the Honor Roll in Mexico. It is one of CISM's traditions.

CISM Championships have served as proving grounds for many a celebrity. In 1946, the limelight focused on ZATOPEK; in 1956, WILLIAMS and MURCHINSON bettered the world record for the 100 meter dash with a time of 10''01.

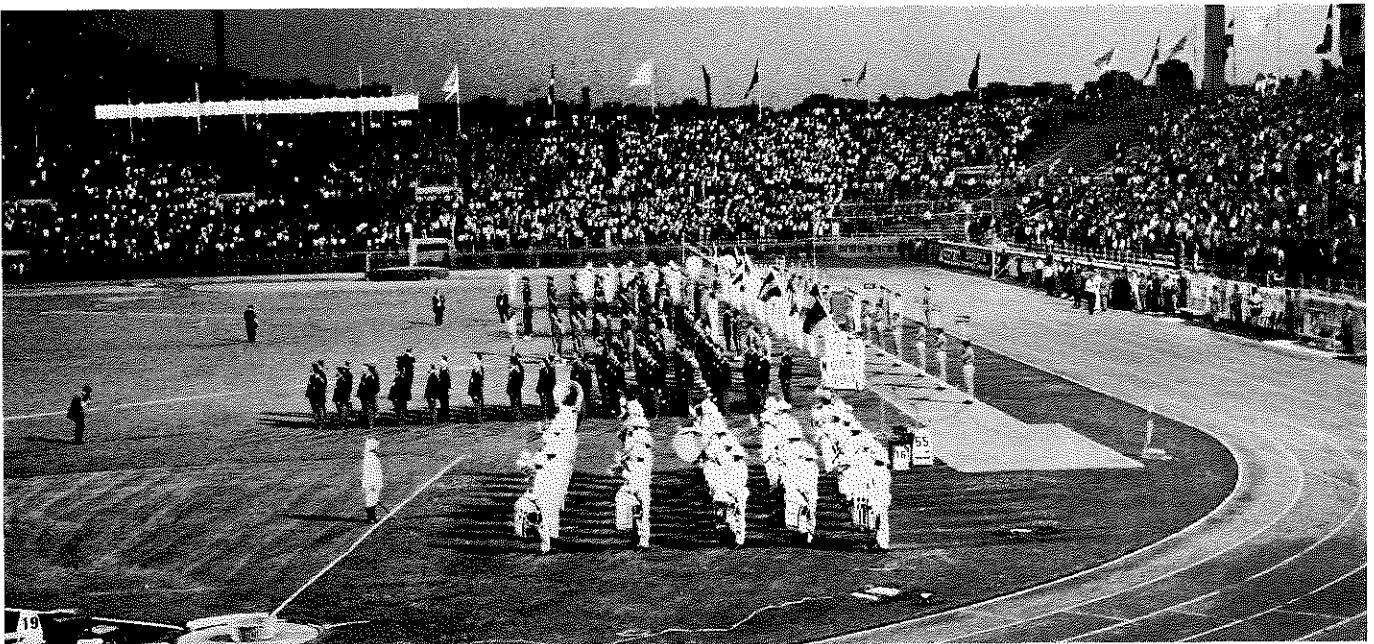

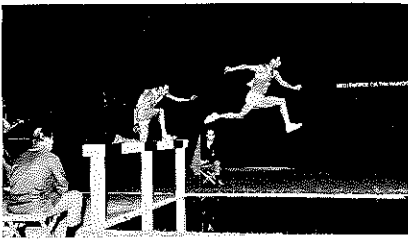

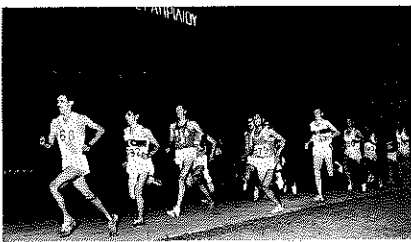

In 1960, in Brussels, SYLVESTER broke the world record in the discus throwing event. Jazy, Roelants, Ottoz, and many others first came to the world's attention during CISM championships.

Sponsored by Greece, the motherland of the Olympics, the 1968 championship reaffirmed the value of military track events, their regard for decorum and their respect for the athlete. The remarkable spirit of goodwill, which is the trademark of track events, prevailed throughout the championship.

The current Greek Delegation has done a wonderful job of taking over the responsibility previously assumed by Colonel N. PAPARESCOS (M. D.).

Our heartfelt appreciation for this beautiful championship.

Our thanks also to Colonel BORJANS (Belgium) who showed himself to be a CISM representative of great competence and merit.

CISM Champion =

Olympic champion!

To our minds, Modern Pentathlon is more than just a great sport, it is a philosophy, a way of life, an international brotherhood impervious to time. At CISM's championship, for instance, you may very well run into the Chief of the Swedish Delegation, General SVEN THOFELT, 1928 Olympic Champion, Colonel HENDRIK, 1936 Olympic Champion, Colonel CURCIO, and the Secretary General sharing in a morning CROSS-PROMENADE.

You will also encounter representatives of the younger and dedicated new crop : FERM, GUEGUEN, MORRESI, MOORE, TSCHUI. Moreover, you can become acquainted with authentic Olympic Champions; FERM, of Sweden, and several medal winners in Mexico and Tokyo, such as GUEGUEN and MOORE for exemple. CISM indeed takes pride in its Pentathlon contestants, for they have, in most cases, made their debut in our championships.

JOIN THE NAVY AND SEE DEN HELDER...

Such was the leitmotiv of the representatives of 10 nations participating in the 1968 Sea Week event. H. E. the Minister of Defense, W. den Toom greeted them under sunny skies with the remark that, as in the past, the Dutch Armed Forces took pleasure in welcoming the contestants, for such events did much to foster good international relationship and a better understanding of mankind. Another surprise awaited the visitors: a reception at the mediaeval castle of Radbond in Medemblik, enhanced by the presence of Her Royal Highness Princess Magriet and Mr. P. van Vollenhoven.

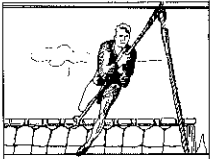

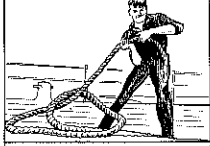

Then came the series of gruelling contests: the obstacle course saw the victory of the Dutch team. The technical course, faithfully adapted to the requirements of the seaman's trade, proved very popular and drew a large public. The swimming event went to the United States, while Norway competed its way to victory in the Amphibious-Cross. The final classification for team and individual performance revealed the most welcome, if unexpected success of the United States team.

The Italian oarsmen were practically unchallenged, while in the Sailing contest (Dragon), Broberg (Sweden) took the lead over an astonishing runner up, Maioforte (Brazil) who is a truly gifted beginner. On the basis of the scores, it is not presumptuous to herald that with participants hailing from Brazil, the United States, and European countries, Ski Week is making great strides forward.

Orienteering...

Jogging through woods and clearings is a sport dating back to the beginning of times. In order not to get lost in their huge forests, the Nordsmen have, of necessity, taken their precautions. With the help of a map and a compass (Made in Sweden), they have invented a new sport labelled Orienteering. The latter requires coordinated effort on the part of both head and legs. One must run, read the map, find the points of passage, orient one self with the compass; run again, etc.; such are the rules of the game.

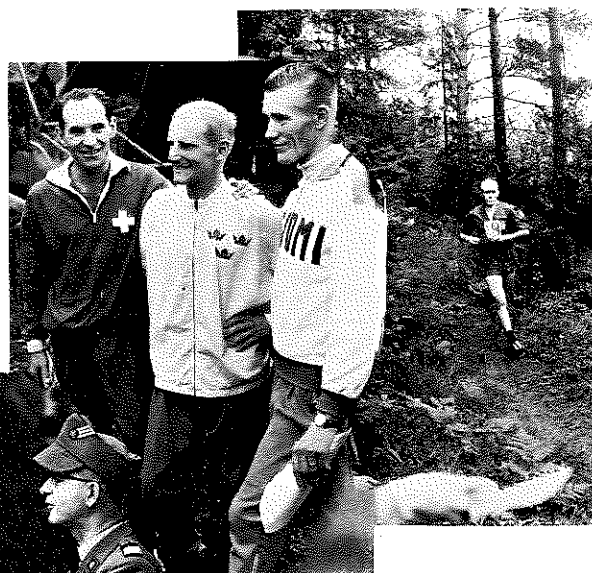

A game it is, but a useful one in the military career.

Colonel Nüscherer (Switzerland) and Lt General Paave Ilmola (Finland) attentively followed the progress of the 42 contestants participating in this recently innovated championship. The event consisted of two races (9.3 km with ten control points, and 10.2 km, respectively) scheduled at one day's interval.

The organizational preparations were thorough, yet flexible, with the attractive perspective of an authentic SAUNA at the end of the day... and of a double beer served by a charming « Canteen Girl ».

Triumph of the Finns — Most honorable performance by the Swiss.

No, the Swedes did not get lost : they came in second.

The United States stole the show

The Championship, which drew the participation of 13 nations, was held in the ultra-modern facilities of the Fontainebleau Interservice Sports School.

The final classification read as follows: U. S. A. - Finland - France - Italy - Sweden - Romania - Greece - Denmark - Netherlands - Belgium - Turkey and Austria. The United States contestants clearly demonstrated their superiority in this event. All CISM records were shattered while three world records were broken and two equalled in certain Olympic disciplines, namely:

Free Carbine, 50 meters - prone position (40 rounds):

KRILLING (USA) and TESTARMATA (Italy) ... 399 pts

Free Carbine, 50 meters - kneeling position (40 rounds):

KRILLING (USA) ... 394 pts

Free Carbine, 50 meters - standing position (40 rounds):

LANDRO (Norway) ... 376 pts
(World record tied).

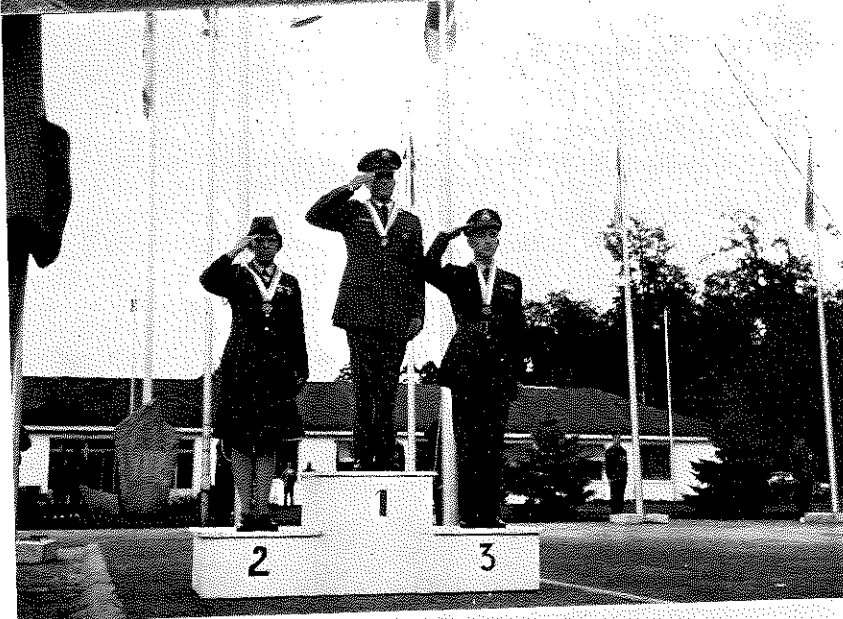

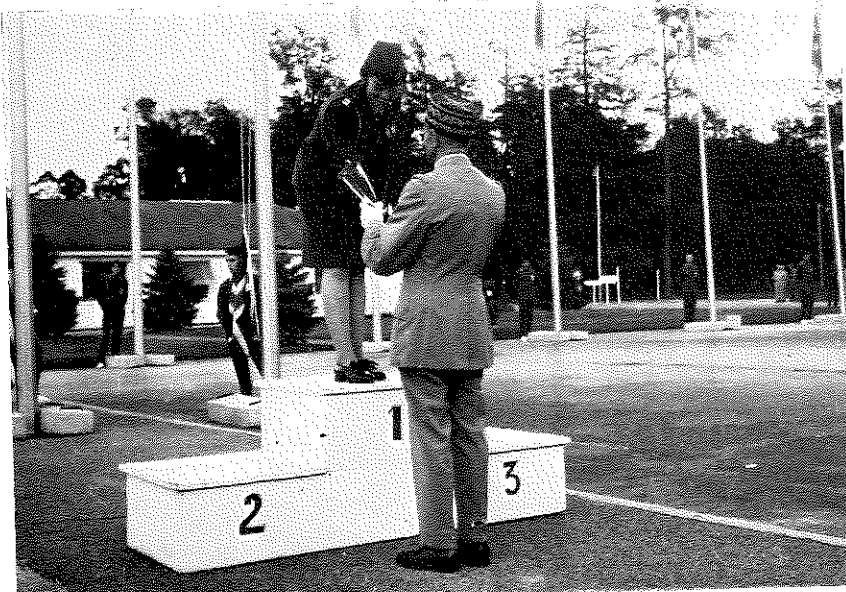

In the three position contest, KRILLING scored a total of 1,161 pts, thus closing in on the World Record of his countryman WIGGER (1,164 pts).

Combat rifle, 300 meters:

WHITAKER (USA) ... 561 pts

The undisputed star of this championship was MARGARET THOMSON, W. A. C. Captain, U. S. A. In the free carbine (standing position) event, she came within a point of the world record and her classification in the three shoulder-weapon contests (free carbine: second with 1,158 pts, combat rifle at 300 mtr: second with 555 pts for precision and third for speed, with 495 pts) needs no additional comment.

All the contestants — of which more than thirty have participated in the Rome and Tokyo Olympic Games as well as in the Cairo and Wiesbaden World Championships — made it a point to voice their congratulations to the organizers of the event.

MARGARET THOMSON

A CISM Champion

You may not know that among CISM's founding delegates there was a Miss André, Lieutenant in the French Army and daughter of famed French athlete Geo André.

Twenty years later, the relay has been picked up with Captain Margaret Thomson's brilliant participation in the IXth Shooting Championship.

WELCOME, CAPTAIN, AND DO COME AGAIN!

A championship that ... soars ...

No, we are not referring to ascending parachuting.

The parachutes of military champions quite conventionally do take them down.

And mighty well at that, for the time has almost come to devise a less commonplace challenge than that of accurately touching a target.

As things stand, the margins of error have become practically unnoticeable.

What is soaring is the quota of participation. As is the case for several other CISM contests, the increase is illustrated by the presence of teams from the United States, Brazil, Vietnam, and Iraq. Dispersion in this context is a very welcome phenomenon which serves to further heighten interest in this championship reserved for those true soldier-athletes: the paratroopers.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP:

- The Spanish Air Force provided the organizing Committee with 2 « Caribous », 2 « Augusta-Beli » Helicopters, 1 « Dornier ».
- The opening and closing ceremonies were presided by Major General M. Sagardoy and Lt General Prado Castro, respectively, both in the presence of 10,000 spectators.
- The scores were exceptionally high due to the great skill of participating teams.
- The Air Ministry awarded the title of « Fighter Paratrooper » honoris-causa of the Spanish Army to all the participants.

A single melancholic note: this was the last championship to be presided by Major General M. Sagardoy, Chief of the Spanish Delegation, who is relinquishing this function.

Under his leadership, the Spanish Delegation became an example of stamina and initiative in undertaking the sponsorship of numerous championships such as Track & Field, Swimming, Soccer, and Cross-Country, as well as the XXIInd General Assembly.

We are bidding him a warm, if regretful, farewell.

REUS ESPAÑA

13-22
SEPTIEMBRE
1968

H.I.H. Gholam Raza Pahlavi

President

of the Imperial Army Higher Sports Council

It is in this capacity that His Imperial Highness presided and supervised the organizing committee of CISM's Volleyball championship.

It is a great honor for CISM as well as a renewed expression of the truly keen interest displayed by the Iranian High Authorities in our activities.

Such interest is indeed true to Iran's tradition.

To wit, let us listen to Colonel M. Khakbiz's address to the Chiefs of Delegation :

« Iran is a country where sports feats, skill and strength have always been lauded.

Our Book of Kings, the world's greatest literary work of its kind, relates, in its 60 000 couplets, the prowess of our champions in hand to hand combat. Each occasion is exploited to praise the valor, muscular power, skill in the manipulation of arms, nimbleness and courage of the contestants. In ancient Persia, sports constituted the fundamental basis of education for the young. Since childhood, they were trained to ride horses, shoot arrows, wield a sword, a spear, or a club, use a shield, and, most importantly, it was impressed upon them that they should never stray from the truth.

The ancient creed of our country rested on three principles :

UPRIGHTNESS OF THOUGHT, SPEECH, AND ACTION.

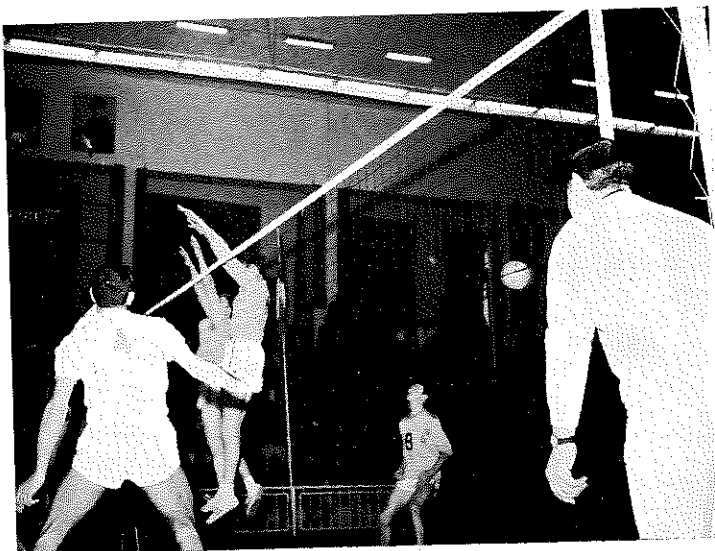

The optimum harmony between spiritual and corporal power cannot find a better expression.

And, in our view, CISM's activities could not be better suited to the precepts of our national heritage. »

Lt Colonel Abou-Dargham (Lebanon), CISM representative, found eloquent terms to stress the role of Iran in our organization.

« The 4th Military Volleyball championship which took place in Teheran, in 1968, served to give a

A Volleyball game pitting the Iranian team against the Belgian players.

Introduction of the teams by Colonel M. Khakbiz, Chief of the Iranian Delegation; to his right, Lt Colonel A. Dargham, CISM Representative and Chief of the Lebanese Delegation.

Vith VOLLEYBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

FROM NOVEMBER 10th TILL 25th — TEHERAN (IRAN)

The Organizing Committee
under the chairmanship of H. I. H. Chapour Gholam Reza Pahlavi (right) clearer picture of the true nature of International Military Sports Council events, in that it highlighted their inherent characteristics : sportsmanship, spirit of chivalry, constructive competitiveness, and the mutual exchange of knowledge in the technical areas of sports.

Volleyball was introduced on the CISM Calendar in 1960, pursuant to a decision of the XIVth General Assembly which, on that year, convened in Teheran. It was also Iran which, in 1961, sponsored the first military Volleyball championship and, on this occasion, His Imperial Highness the Shahinshah, CISM

Member of Honor, endowed the event with a magnificent permanent trophy. Since then, military volleyball rapidly gained ground and is now rightly considered one of the leading mass activities. »

The Iranian team made it a point of honor to substantiate the words of the sports authorities by victoriously competing through all the phases of the championship.

The latter will have served to prove that the new team at the head of the delegation to CISM is determined to give greater impetus to military sports in Iran.

CISM has long ago initiated a project of decentralization designed to promote further expansion. It is being implemented through the creation of Liaison Offices in Latin America (Rio de Janeiro), Africa (Tunis), the Middle East (Beirut), and in the Far East (Seoul).

CISM events are gradually being programmed in the latter geographical area. Winners of such events will subsequently participate in the CISM Championships.

Headquarters of the Liaison Office for Africa

Such was the response addressed by H. E. Mr. Mzali, Secretary of Defense, Member of the International Olympic Committee and President of the Tunisian Olympic Committee, to CISM's request that the XXIIIrd General Assembly be hosted by Tunis.

As a result of this friendly acceptance, the flags of the 33 member and invited nations floated over the elegant and charming village of Abou Nawas, right on the sea coast.

The Military Sports Center at Le Bardo was ready for the congressmen: the headquarters of the Liaison Office were spic and span, and the proverbial Tunisian hospitality warmer and more cheerful than ever.

An impressive menu — Food for thought — had been prepared:

As an hors-d'œuvre: A most substantive Academic session. A speech — the word document seems more appropriate — defined the Tunisian sports doctrine.

As a main course: 4 plenary sessions, 15 Working Committees, a rich Calendar.

For a touch of novelty: the elaboration of a program scheduling four clinics in Africa, Latin America, the Middle East, and Europe respectively, with a view to disseminating the latest training methods.

And as dessert? A series of receptions outdoing each other in charm and cordiality.
